

APPENDIX A

INFORMATIONAL MEDIA GUARANTY PROGRAM 62/

The Informational Media Guaranty (IMG) program, originally authorized in 1948, was transferred to USIA in 1953. IMG makes it possible for American exporters of books, periodicals, motion pictures, and other informational media to sell their materials through regular commercial channels in foreign countries having a shortage of American dollars, by guaranteeing to convert the local currency received into US dollars.

The following Yugoslav firms are authorized by the Yugoslav Government to import books, periodicals, and motion pictures and to purchase literary rights under the Informational Media Guaranty Program:
